Roots To Roots

JERUSALEM (UPI) — American author Alex Haley exchanged books Wednesday with Israeli Prime Minister Menahem Begin.

Haley got a copy of "The Revolt," Begin's story of underground struggles, and gave a copy of "Roots" to the prime minister.

"I think this is the most moving direct exposure I have had to a whole people being deeply involved in the matter of seeking their roots," Haley said, in a ceremony in which he was made an honorary fellow of the Hebrew University.

Ford On Ford

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Jack Ford said his father, former President Gerald Ford, may decide by next year whether to run again for president, but the 25-year-old Ford Wednesday refused to speculate about which way the decision will go.

"We don't ever talk about it in the family — until 1978," he said. "However, I do know he's very adamant about not closing the door."

Ford said his father's indecision should not prevent other Republican candidates from pursuing the job — "It's important to give the new faces and forces a chance."

Spencer Hurt

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — Child actress Danielle Spencer, who portrays Dee on the television series "What's Happening," remains in guarded condition at Santa Monica Medical Center with injuries she received in a head-on traffic collision that killed her father.

Miss Spencer, 12, underwent surgery shortly after the accident Tuesday and reportedly will require more surgery in the future.

Her father, actor Timothy Pelt, 39, was killed in the collision and two other persons also were injured.

TSTA Workshop Set

District and local leaders of the Texas State Teachers Assn. in a seven-county area will attend the TSTA District X fall workshop Saturday at Plano Senior High School.

The workshop will run from 8:30 a.m. registration until adjournment at 12:30 p.m. Teachers are expected from the 37 TSTA local associations in District X which includes the counties of Collin, Dallas, Ellis, Fannin, Grayson, Kaufman and Rockwall.

Local leaders will receive information, ideas and materials and will provide input for the 1977-78 programs of TSTA.

District X president Russell Owen Jr., of the Dallas Independent School District administrative staff, will be in charge and will be assisted by other district leaders. Grace Grimes of Marshall, immediate past president of TSTA, will be a featured speaker.

The following Saturday, approximately 300 English and language arts teachers representing 15 counties will participate in a workshop for the Texas Joint Council of English Teachers District X and XI.

Workshop sessions for the English instructors will include topics on composition, literature, reading and visual aids.

Budget, Bert Lance Topics in Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress returned from its summer recess Wednesday and promptly got into partisan wrangles over the federal budget and the investigation of Korean influence buying.

The lawmakers also prepared to renew their investigation of Budget Director Bert Lance, and began dealing with the troublesome issues of natural gas prices, utility rate-making, storage of nuclear wastes, and changes in current labor law.

As the Congressmen gathered for their first day of business, the House Republicans launched an attack on the proposed 1978 federal budget, a spending plan they said will cause the average American taxpayer to pay $1,000 more a year in taxes for the next five years.

Democrats say the $458.7 billion budget will create more jobs and reduce unemployment.

The budget issue got slightly tangled in the Korean influence-buying scandal. Rep. Bruce Caputo, R-N.Y., said $114 million in foreign aid for South Korea should be cut from the budget if that country refuses to return businessman Tongsun Park to the United States for questioning by congressional committees.

The Senate Governmental Affairs Committee, preparing to further investigate Lance's financial dealings, released a report which said Lance used interest-free deposits from his own bank to obtain more than a dozen loans during the past several years. The committee members planned to question Comptroller John Heimann about the report today.

The lawmakers quickly resumed work on several energy related matters. The Senate, during debate on the coal bill, rejected an effort to move up President Carter's timetable for requiring power plants to convert from natural gas to coal by 1990.

Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Energy Committee, estimated that his committee is about evenly divided on the President's plan to extend federal controls on natural gas prices. He said the issue could go "either way" on the floor.

Witnesses before a Senate energy conservation subcommittee said the federal government should not get involved in deciding what rates can be charged by utilities. Legislation under study by the panel would eliminate bargain rates for customers using large amounts of energy.

On the House side, Rep. John Moss,

Plano Claims Little Damage; Tornado Touches in County

Heavy rain and thunderstorms plummeted Plano early yesterday evening and at least one tornado caused damage in the eastern portion of Collin County.

Plano Police reported no major damage in the city but said that three persons claimed their homes were struck by lightning. Traffic accidents caused by slick roads kept the officers busy for most of the night.

A County Sheriff's Dept. spokesperson said that a tornado at East Fork Harbor Resort at Lake Lavon hit a boat storage shed and took the roof off. Power lines were also torn down by the tornado, which struck around 4:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Centering over North and Central Texas and the Gulf Coast, the thunderstorms caused extensive damage in other parts of the state and also claimed the life of a 17-year old high school football player who was struck and killed by lightning.

An electrical storm briefly knocked out power in Terrell and killed Bernard Derrick, who was struck on the football practice field about 6 p.m. The high school student died shortly thereafter.

Four airplanes were damaged by a tornado that ripped the roof from a small airport at La Grange and a twister caused extensive damage to two businesses in Lytle during the afternoon and evening storm activity.

Fayette County Sheriff's Deputy R.W. Sullivan said the La Grange tornado touched down at 3:20 p.m., tore the roof off the only hangar at Gunther Airport. He said two planes inside the hangar and two planes outside the building were damaged.

Sullivan said the tornado also swept a patio roof from the top of a house in the city of approximately 4,000 located 65 miles south of Austin and "twisted off some trees."

A dispatcher for the Lytle Police Department said a 5:15 p.m. tornado caused extensive damage to a lumberyard and a used car lot in the city about 25 miles southwest of San Antonio. Power lines and several trees also were downed, according to the dispatcher.

The Houston suburbs of Bellaire and Alief reported funnel clouds, as did Orange County.

The National Weather Service in Fort Worth reported heavy thunderstorms located in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, spawning golfball-sized hail and wind gusts to 45 miles per hour at the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

A funnel cloud also was reported near Rockwall, 20 miles southeast of Dallas.

Austin police also reported a funnel cloud touched down briefly about 1:25 p.m. during a heavy thunderstorm.

Heavy thunderstorm activity also was reported between Paris and Greenville, southwest of Mount Enterprise to Madisonville, within a 50-75 mile radius of San Antonio, the lower Gulf Coast and in portions of Arkansas and Louisiana.

Complex Takes Shape

Although construction progresses visibly almost every day, the Collin County courthouse-jail complex is still several months behind schedule. Originally set for completion by Dec. 31, architects are now estimating that the $7 million facility will not be operational until sometime between mid-March and mid-April, 1978. Delays were caused by the harsher-than-usual winter of 1976-77. The new complex is located at McDonald and Davis Sts. in McKinney and when completed will replace the century-old and overcrowded courthouse and jail currently being used. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

Daniel Says He'll Seek Attorney Spot

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Former House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. has announced his candidacy for attorney general, saying he would take care of the "nuts and bolts" functions of the office.

"I believe the people of Texas are weary of hearing politicians promise new program after new program to provide services and solve problems when we already have more government bureaucracy than we can handle," Daniel told a news conference Wednesday.

"What I promise and what I set as my primary goal is to make sure that those nuts and bolts functions are being fulfilled," he said.

Daniel, 36, said a public opinion survey by a Dallas firm favored him over Secretary of State Mark White, who has indicated he will run for the Democratic nomination for attorney general.

The poll gave Daniel 38 per cent of the vote in an attorney general's race, compared to 10 per cent for White and 9 per cent for Houston District Attorney Carol Vance.

"My first priority as attorney general will be making certain that the basic duties and responsibilities of the office under the constitution and laws of this state are properly and efficiently attended to," Daniel said.

Daniel, son of Supreme Court Justice and former governor Price Daniel Sr., said he would remain independent in his campaign and would not participate in any other campaigns for statewide office. He said he counted both liberals and conservatives among his supporters.

Daniel also said he was awaiting the decision of the courts as to whether the attorney general has the power to sue state agencies to stop acts which he deems contrary to the public interest.

Treaty Gets 'Treason' Label Following Elaborate Signing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter signed treaties relinquishing the Panama Canal in the year 2000, but opponents called it "treason" and rallied today to the battle cry "We built it, we bought it, we own it!"

In a glittering ceremony Wednesday night preceding a state dinner for the presidents, prime ministers and diplomats of 27 hemispheric nations, Carter and Gen. Omar Torrijos affixed their names to the two treaties turning Teddy Roosevelt's canal over to Panama.

Carter's bold diplomatic gamble produced the treaties. But signing them does not put them into effect. It takes Senate ratification and House implementing legislation to do that, and the task won't be easy.

Rep. Mickey Edwards, R-Okla., on the steps of the Capitol Wednesday, called treaty negotiator Sol Linowitz the "Bert Lance of international negotiation" as 200 protesters waved the banners, "We built it, we bought it, we own it!"

Even Democrats conceded the path to ratification will be thorny.

Ronald Reagan urged rejection of the treaties, saying their "fatal flaw" is the future assumption of reliable, troublefree canal operation.

In testimony prepared today for a Senate Judiciary subcommittee, he said the 1903 treaty with Panama gave the United States "a firm, unshakable legal basis for building, operating and defending the canal."

"To this day, it is those rights of sovereignty which undergird our ability to operate and defend the canal. We cannot be kicked out summarily on the whim of some Panamanian government."

Television beamed the ceremony live, by satellite, throughout Latin America as Carter and Torrijos signed the blue and red-bound treaties that constitute the historic agreement. The two men smiled and embraced warmly after they signed.

Torrijos, in a concession to the rocky road Carter faces, said the future of the treaties depends on "the statesmanship" of the U.S. Senate.

"We are here to participate in the signing of treaties, which will assure a peaceful and prosperous and secure future for an international waterway of great importance to us all," Carter said.

Mobilized in support were Lady Bird Johnson, whose husband Lyndon placed his administration on record for turning the canal over to Panama; and former President Gerald Ford, whose support of such a move nearly cost him the GOP nomination to Reagan last year.

They received warm applause when Carter introduced them at the signing ceremony.

'Y' Plans Weekend Paper Drive

Plano YMCA Indian Guides and Indian Princesses will sponsor a paper drive beginning tomorrow afternoon and continuing throughout the weekend.

A truck will be located on the YMCA parking lot, 2601 Glencliff. Anyone wishing to donate papers, magazines, catalogues or any other type paper can bring them during the weekend to the YMCA.

Money raised from the project will be used for YMCA World Service activities which are used to help promote YMCA programs and basic worldwide understanding of Y functions.

Chamber Endorses Bond Vote

The Plano Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors has unanimously endorsed the $1.8 million municipal bond issue to come before Plano voters Saturday.

President Roland Dickey stated that the Board of Directors supports the bond program because "the issue should insure continued efficient city government for Plano and the bond program recommended by the Citizens Advisory Committee is the most cost effective means of achieving this."

"Thus, we encourage all citizens in the community to go to the polls Saturday in support of our city government," Dickey added.

THE RADIO HOBBYIST

By Frederick O. Maia
KKB-0924 - W5UTT
Executive Director, American Radio Council

One constantly hears the term standing wave ratio, SWR or someone talking about his "R's". While SWR is frequently discussed, many radio hobbyists are not too sure what standing waves really are, except that they aren't good.

Standing waves are something that a book could be (and have been) written about. Technically, this is a very complicated subject that even electronic engineers are not in total agreement on. We will try to simplify the subject for you.

The efficiency of a transmitting antenna depends on matching the antenna to the coax feedline and the feedline (transmission line) to the transmitter. Naturally, you want to get as much of the radiated power out the antenna as your transmitter delivers. Think of the coax transmission line as a garden hose and the transmitter as a faucet. The antenna is similar to the hose nozzle. If the faucet, garden hose and nozzle all have the same diameter (are matched) then the maximum amount of water will be transferred to the nozzle. However, a smaller (mismatched) diameter hose or nozzle will slow down (impede) the flow. It is the same with a transmitter, feedline and antenna. The transmitter has a specific output resistance rating which must be matched by the feedline and antenna - otherwise the antenna will not accept all the power flowing from the transmitter.

In electronic terminology, what we match is "impedance" and it is measured in "ohms". A standard CB or "ham" radio's output impedance is normally 50 ohms and must be matched with a 50 ohm coax feedline and a 50 ohm antenna. When the transmitter, feedline and antenna are all perfectly matched (which is impossible except in theory), we say the standing wave ratio, (SWR) is "one to one". In actual practice, a 1.1 to 1 SWR is about as low as you can get it. By definition, standing waves are waves of voltage that combine with other waves being reflected back from the antenna to the transmitter along the feedline since they cannot escape from the antenna due to a mismatch. These combined waves going in opposite directions form stationary (or standing) waves. This is a greatly simplified explanation, but will do for our purposes. The more reflected power, the higher the standing wave ratio. The lower the SWR, the better the match, the more the radiated power. An SWR of 3 to 1 means that 25 percent of your power is reflected (as opposed to radiated) power. As a general rule, any SWR of over two to one is not acceptable - particularly if you have a solid state, transistorized transceiver. If your SWR is two to one or less, then no further adjustments are necessary since no damage will be done to your radio and the amount of lost power due to the mismatch is so negligible that it will not affect your radio range at all.

Still, we have many "purists" around that feel that a "flat" SWR one to one - or as near to it as possible) is necessary. An antenna tuner is a relatively inexpensive device which can reduce SWR to this level. Again, very little is actually accomplished by reducing your SWR to a level less than two to one. The main problem in having a high SWR (over two to one) is that higher than normal voltages will be flowing in your feedline and back into your transmitter. These voltages could burn out the final amplifier section of your radio set. Standing wave ratio, simply stated, is a numerical indication of the amount of mismatch that exists in the radiation system of your two-way radio.

Standing wave ratio is normally measured by a SWR bridge or meter which is inserted in the feedline between the antenna and the transmitter. This device is essential for tuning an antenna, since the antenna impedance can be changed to match the feedline impedance by changing it's length. When you get an SWR check on your CB radio, what the technician normally wants to determine is if your mobile antenna length is such that it exhibits 50 ohms. If the SWR is high, then he prunes the antenna (usually with a bolt cutter) until the SWR comes down to an acceptable limit. Some SWR meters come with a built in watt meter so that you can also measure the radio's output power. An SWR meter measures the forward radiated power and power reflected back from the antenna. Some meters are calibrated directly in SWR, others in amount of forward and reflected power in watts.

City Fathers Strive for Quality

(Editor's Note: Earlier this summer, M-PF Research Inc. presented an analysis of Plano's retail trade potential to the Plano Chamber of Commerce. The study was commissioned by the chamber, with the financial assistance of the City of Plano and Plano Independent School District, in late 1976.

This is the sixth article in a series drawing from the 50-page report).

With Plano's population surge of the seventies, as previously noted, the city fathers of Plano have become increasingly concerned with seeing that the services needed to maintain a quality lifestyle in Plano are provided.

The focus of the Plano Resident Attitude Survey conducted by M-PF Research as part of the retail trade analysis is twofold—to identify the demographic characteristics of the Plano resident income, marital status, household size, etc.; and to determine the shopping patterns of Plano residents.

An ancillary objective is to determine what attitudinal or demographic differences, if any, exist between new residents to Plano and those that may be considered longterm residents.

For purposes of the study, a shortterm Plano resident is defined as having lived in Plano less than one year. A longterm resident represents a household which has lived in Plano for longer than one year.

Reflecting Plano's rapid growth, of the 193 Plano households interviewed, 39 percent were new residents with the remaining 61 percent having lived in the city for longer than one year.

During the month of June, 1977, M-PF Research Inc. personally contacted 193 Plano households to administer a questionnaire designed to achieve the objectives outlined. A stratified random sampling procedure was employed to determine the 193 households to be interviewed.

The discussion which follows first identifies the characteristics of the Plano resident. Residence background data on these residents is then developed (and will be discussed in Friday's series entry), followed by an explanation of shopping patterns (in Sunday's paper).

In conjunction with determining differences between longterm and shortterm Plano residents, the data obtained from the survey conducted is presented according to these two market segments. Demographic Characteristics

The typical Plano household is comprised of a married couple with two children. The typical families in Plano are young and very affluent primarily in professional or managerial occupations.

The differences between the longterm and shortterm resident are relatively small although some variances are worth noting. The longterm Plano resident is predominately married with children living at home. This pattern is also evident among shortterm residents although to a lesser degree.

Among new residents, a higher incidence of married couples with no children and single persons living alone is revealed. This finding is a reflection of the migration patterns of persons to Plano over the past year.

Although Plano remains principally a family community, the immigration of childless couples and singles to Plano could be a sign of a slight shift away from the predominant family atmosphere exhibited over the past 10 years.

However, Plano is obviously still a family-oriented town.

This orientation is further demonstrated by the number children in the household. Plano residents are basically two-children households. Slightly over one-third of the households interviewed had two children.

The incidence of no children in a household is twice as high among relatively new established households than among longterm residents.

This pattern of household size may be a function of age since an examination of the ages of the two groups of respondents interviewed shows a difference of 2.5 years. The average age of the longterm residents is 39.1 years, of shortterm residents, 36.6 years.

More important than the average age is the pattern of age distribution. The majority of the longterm residents are between the ages of 30 to 45 years with the greatest concentration (35 percent) being between 30 and 34 years.

The age distribution of the newer residents correspond to the longterm, although distinctions do exist, especially in relation to the under 30 year age category.

While approximately 24 percent of the less than one-year residents are 30-34 years, 33 percent are under 30 in comparison to only 11 percent of the longterm residents being under 30.

On the other end of the age spectrum, a higher incidence of the longterm residents are 45 years or older, although basically, Plano typifies a low-middle age market, essentially having few elderly residents.

Lemon freshens disposal

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY — I was out of town for a few days and when I returned home the odor from my garbage disposal was horrid. Apparently something fell into the disposal unnoticed and rotted during my absence. I have tried using several things like a drain opener, vinegar, soap and cleansing powder but the odor remains. Please tell me how to have a clean smelling kitchen again. — R.J.W.

DEAR R.J.W. — You might cut up a lemon and run it through the disposal for a fresher smell. Vanilla works wonders in a refrigerator and you might put a couple teaspoons in a cup of water and let it run through, or put a cup of baking soda down the drain and then flush it through with a cup of boiling water. When I remove the box of soda I keep in my refrigerator I always empty the soda in the drain and flush it through. Perhaps our readers will have some other ideas for you. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with those magazines that put recipes or coupons on the other side of a page that has a good article. Often a recipe is on the back of a coupon and one is forced to copy the recipe in order to be able to use the coupon. There are a few magazines that do organize their articles and coupons but I wish more of them would do the same. — MONA.

DEAR POLLY — To remove burned-on food from pots and pans try filling a pan with boiling water and a little cream of tartar.

Before starting to mix cold, hard shortening heat the beaters on your electric mixer in warm water for a few minutes and they will not clog. — LORENE.

DEAR POLLY — When cutting sweet corn off the cob put the cob in the center tube of an angel food cake pan, start cutting and the kernels will fall in the pan.

We keep a shoe bag attached to the closet door to catch mittens, scarfs and winter caps that might be scattered here and there. — GLENDA.

DEAR POLLY — I use an aluminum coffee pot to melt wax that is going to be used for sealing jellies and jams. When the wax is melted it is then easy to pour. When the canning season is over the unused wax is stored in this pot so it is ready to use when needed. — EDNA.

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell D.J. that I find the cheapest and easiest way to remove rust stains is with pure kerosene. It seems to remove most anything. Wash with detergent afterwards. It has always worked perfectly for me and any time we move that is the first thing we use. — ANN.

Polly will send you one of her signed thank-you newspaper coupon clippers if she uses your favorite Pointer, Peeve or Problem in her column. Write POLLY'S POINTERS in care of

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with Major Hoople

SIDE GLANCES by Gill Fox

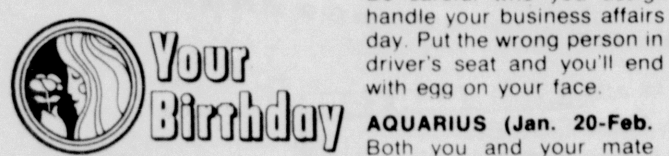

"I just realized, I put more miles on me this year than did on my car!"

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with Major Hoople

ASTRO-GRAPH Bernice Bede Osol

For Friday, Sept. 9, 1977

Don't give up on things in which you've invested your time, talent and money. These will pay off this coming year, not flash-in-the-pan-type activities

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Friendship could be jeopardized if you take it for granted. Under no conditions speak for a pal without his or her consent. Like to find out more of what lies ahead for you? Send for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter by mailing 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)

Look toward the future optimistically, but also be realistic. Before you embark on any new projects, be sure you assess all the probabilities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

Show only your best side to the public today. Any out-of-character actions could damage the image you want to project.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

Save yourself some embarrassment today. Don't pretend to know something that you really don't. A challenge could make you look very foolish.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Be careful who you assign to handle your business affairs today. Put the wrong person in the driver's seat and you'll end up with egg on your face.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)

Both you and your mate are more edgy than you realize today. Some inconsequential word or action could cause a spontaneous flare-up.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)

"Safety First" is always a sound rule. This is particularly important to you if using new or unfamiliar equipment.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

Don't spring any sudden changes that disrupt family routine today. You'll get everybody rattled with your disregard for their feelings.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

You are not noted for making snap judgments, but you may do so to your own detriment today. Stick to your familiar pattern of moving cautiously.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

Take no financial risks today. Don't buy anything that is more novel than utilitarian. Your yardstick should be predicated on a practical scale.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

A misunderstanding could arise between you and a friend today over something silly. Quash it before a foolish barrier is erected.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

Your timing could be off today regarding when and how to close a deal. You can rectify this by being aware that "when" is just as important as "how."

Briefs

Robert Vaughn To Play 'FDR'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Robert Vaughn will appear as the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in a new one-man play, "FDR," by Dore Scharly, due on Broadway in January.

"FDR" will have its world premiere Sept. 8 in Atlanta as a special one-performance benefit for the Democratic National Party and the Georgia State Democratic Party at $500 a ticket, with Vice President Walter F. Mondale in attendance.

After Atlanta, "FDR" will play Seattle, Tucson, San Diego, Washington, D.C., St. Louis, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago before opening on Broadway Jan. 30, Roosevelt's birthday.

The producer of "FDR," Don Gregory, has another one-man show intended for Broadway in February: "Paul Robeson," with James Earl Jones as the late athlete-singer. The play by Phillip Hayes Dean will open its pre-Broadway tour in Louisville Sept. 15-17, and continue to St. Louis, Boston, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Chicago and Washington, D.C.

Pennsylvania Ballet's Plans

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Pennsylvania Ballet will have four brief subscription seasons at the Shubert Theatre here in the 1977-78 season: Oct. 13-22, Nov. 23-Dec. 3, Feb. 16-25, and May 4-13.

Two world premieres will be given: a dramatic work (so far untitled) by Lynne Taylor based on Herman Hesse's "Narcissus and Goldmund" in October, and Benjamin Harkavy's "Signatures" in February.

Treat Calluses With Silicone

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A Glendale, Calif., podiatrist has concluded after an 11-year study that painful calluses on the sole of the foot often can be treated by injections of medical grade fluid silicone.

Dr. S. W. Balkin, presenting a paper at the annual meeting of the American Podiatry Association, won an award from the Armour Pharmaceutical Company for his research. Dr. Balkin's research involved 53 patients — 22 males and 31 females — with 102 plantar calluses. All were injected between 1964 and 1970 and received follow-up exams in one to 10 years. The silicone, now under control of the Food and Drug Administration, proved the injections an effective buffer between the skin and bone of the callused areas.

What's That You Say?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Speak up. There are 20 million persons in this country who don't hear well.

That's about one in 10 persons, reports the Health Insurance Institute. And some two million Americans have so little hearing capacity that they are unable to understand normal speech. The two groups with the highest incidence of hearing problems are premature children and the older population.

'out'a bounds'

—Ed Voss, Sports Editor—

I wouldn't make a very good football forecaster. I say that with reasonable certainty following the first week's results of Out On A Limb, the new prediction feature carried in our Thursday's issue.

Of the five Star-Courier staffers which predict results, I came in dead last and I do mean DEAD LAST! I got only four games out of 15 right.

I can't figure out what went wrong. I had a good basis for each of my predictions.

For instance, Plano hadn't lost a season opener since 1973 and they were playing in their new $2.75 million stadium. I figured I couldn't go wrong with picking Plano, but wrong I was.

The pro games really ate my lunch. Not only did the Houston Oilers scrape the barnacles off the Dallas Cowboys, but the other pro teams I picked "played like dogs, on and off the field." (Sorry, Brad, I couldn't resist it.)

I already trail the other predictors by so ... We have added Keith Taylor to the Star-Courier sports staff. He will work in a myriad of areas to better serve our reading public.

Keith has requested that we not use "Keith" on his bylines but rather "Keyth". So anyone reading a story by Keyth Taylor is now duly warned that it is really Keith Taylor.

The fact that Keith or Keyth or whatever wanted to change the way his name is spelled made some of us at the Star-Courier

Press box facilities were somewhat primitive last Friday night for the Plano and South Garland football game. The game was played at the new $2.75 million football-soccer stadium in Northwest Plano in which everything was operational except the "Wildcat inner circle of word merchant suites."

It was kinda dark and spooky, awfully many percentage points that only one thing might help me in the future. I am the one that picks the games that we predict...so, if I pick the ones I know the most about and the others know the least about, well, it has possibilities.

Publisher Jim Shriver was the big winner with a win-loss record of 7-9 (did I say big winner?). Mike Newman, Richard LaGow and Keith Taylor each missed nine games for 6-9 records. Amazing thing is, none of us were able to break .500 in the prediction business. We should definitely not challenge Jimmy the Grease.

Oh well, we are going to do the predicting for several more weeks (something like in December) so that leaves plenty of time for a come from behind by yours truly in the standings.

Due to mechanical problems, Out On A Limb will not appear in today's issue but is rescheduled for Friday's edition.

think about doing the same thing.

Terri Anderson could become T.H. Anderson or just Helen Anderson (after her middle name) etc. Pam E. Troboy, the notorious East Texas Aggie, could become P.E. Troboy, Pammy Troboy, Ellen of Troboy or just P.E.T.

Richard LaGow could go by Lloyd LaGow, R.L.L. etc. Judy Monzingo could suddenly become Carter Monzingo, Judith Carter (no relation to Jimmy) or J.C. Monzingo.

...and me? Well, some things are better left alone.

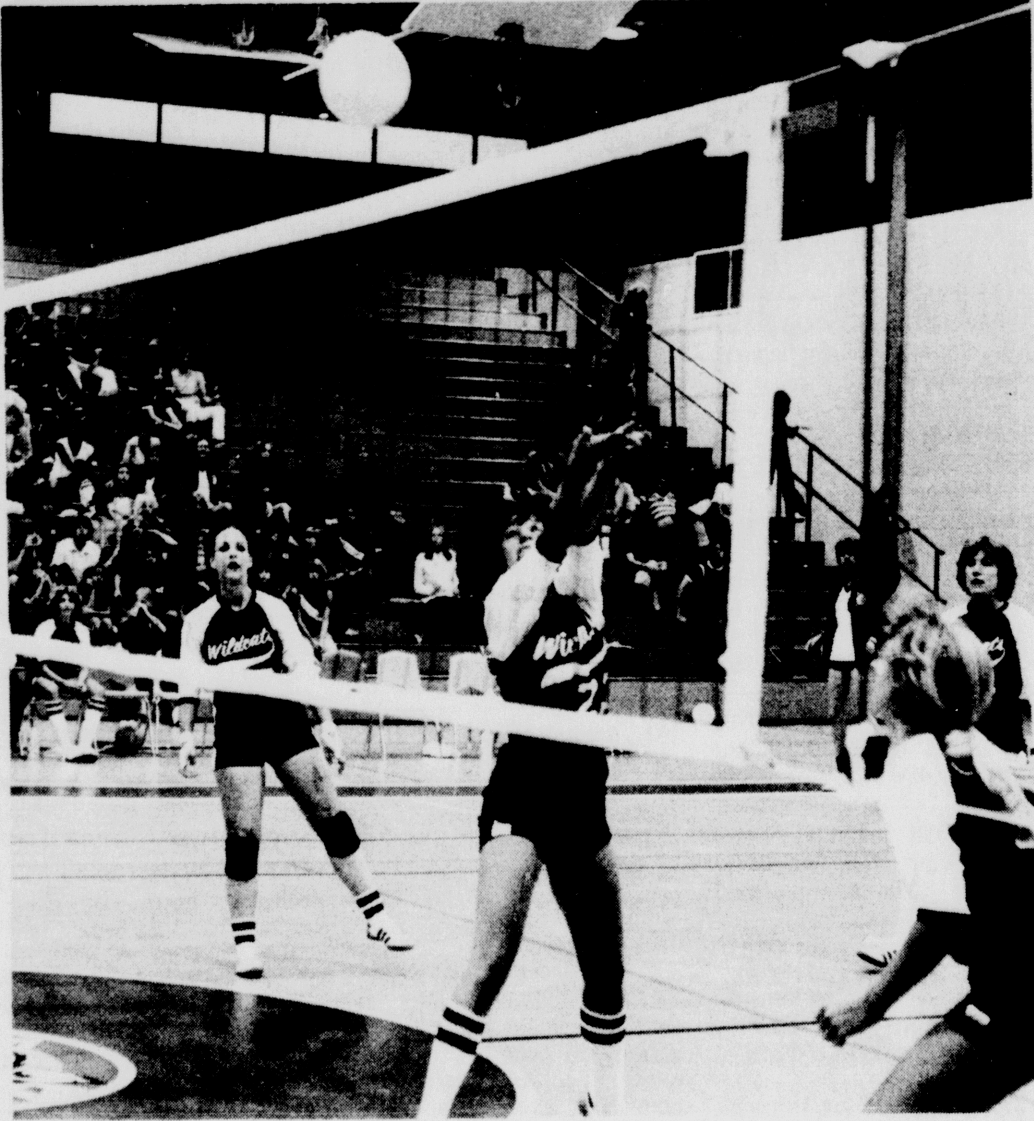

noisy and drafty etc. That's because the walls weren't all in, the crowd noise and wind surrounded us and there weren't any lights.

Plano Independent School District officials have expressed that the pressbox will be ready in time for the Sept. 16 game against Lake Highlands.

'Cat Spikers Win

Plano Senior High's girl's volleyball team won their initial match of the season Tuesday at the Wildcat Activities Building over Richardson Lake Highlands. Coach Ruth Stovall's Wildcats will play tonight at Richardson J.J. Pearce. Gametime is 6 p.m. for the Junior Varsity with the Varsity match following. (Staff photos by Richard LaGow).

Over Lake Highlands

PSHS Volleyball Girls Win

Coach Ruth Stovall's spikers at Plano Senior High opened the season Tuesday with Varsity and Junior Varsity victories over Richardson Lake Highlands.

In the Varsity matches, Plano won the first of the three-game series 15-7 but dropped the second game 15-13. In the rubber match, Plano won 15-8.

In the Junior Varsity matches, Plano won big 15-3, 11-15, 15-3.

"We really came out blazing in the first Varsity game," Coach Stovall said. "The offense was moving quickly and executing well. We were sluggish in the second and third games but still did a good job."

"We had a big crowd and the girls had the first game jitters," Coach Stovall said.

"We have a tough game with Richardson Pearce on Thursday. The kids are coming along real well. They show a lot of promise and we are working our problems out early," Coach Stovall said.

In the Junior Varsity game, Coach Stovall commended the squad with a superb match.

"We were superb in the first game, fell behind in the second game and did an outstanding job. We fell behind 13-2 in the second game but came back to lose only 15-11. That got us momentum to take the final game, 15-3," she said. Plano's next matches are Thursday at Richardson J. Pearce beginning at 6 p.m.

Haggard Tops L'Ville

Haggard Middle School's eighth grade "A" football team made their season debut Tuesday in a scrimmage with Lewisville.

There were no kickoffs etc., however, Haggard controlled the proceedings by scoring two touchdowns.

Steve Okland notched a touchdown in the first period on a 15-yard break. In the fourth period, quarterback Jimmy Tokarczyk broke loose on a 50-yard ramble for a score.

Coach Corky Criswell commended tight end Mark Breedlove, wide receiver Robbie Shinn and the entire offensive line with good jobs.

Defensively, Coach Criswell felt the Eagles were standouts.

"Our whole defense did a good job for only six days of workouts," Criswell said. "We executed well and hit real well."

"Lewisville was a pretty good team and they got only 78 yards against us. The entire defense was superb," Criswell added.

The game was played at Williams High after building delays at the new football-soccer stadium forced the move.

Houston Faces Tough Grid Road

Coach Bill Yeoman Remains Optimistic

By GARY TAYLOR
UPI Sports Writer

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Cotton Bowl-champion Houston Cougars will be hard pressed to duplicate their heady 1976 season, but they will not be caught short of words to explain any eventuality.

Bill Yeoman, the Cougars' coach, and Danny Davis, the gleam in the coach's eye, appear to be in their usual speaking form, less than one week before they open the 1977 season by playing UCLA and Penn State in a six-day period.

"If you're talking about taking a vacation," Yeoman said, "that is a poor way to do it."

And Yeoman admitted his team will be a marked group this season.

"Hey, there is no question, it's much different going into a season like we did last year," Yeoman said. "But having people pointing at you is better than having it the other way around."

"I've even got my fever blisters back this year."

But the Houston coach said, however, that he has lofty hopes for his team which was a Southwest Conference co-champion and which returns its entire offense.

"We plan to make a run. But you can't make a run for anything — except maybe the bathroom — unless you have a defense," he said.

Defense, Yeoman admitted, has caused his fever blisters to return.

"I don't think you can say your defense is better when you lost Paul Humphreys, Wilson Whitley, Mark Mohr and Guy Brown," he said.

Add to that a preseason injury to Robert Oglesby and the decision by highly touted linebacker David Hodge to take a promising business opportunity and quit football.

"I don't think he has even enrolled in school," Yeoman said of Hodge.

On the bright side, however, is a veer offense which rolled for 400 yards per game in 1976 behind the running of quarterback Davis and five talented running backs, Alois Blackwell, Daryl Thomas, Charles Lynch, Randy Love and Emmett King.

It is the time of year to be modest and Yeoman began a 90-minute interview session with a group of sportswriters by saying his running game would be "adequate."

Pressed to upgrade that analysis, Yeoman admitted, "Maybe that was the wrong choice of words."

Then the coach relaxed his cautiousness as he spoke of Davis, the 5-11, 185 junior quarterback who made the Cougars a surprise co-champion.

"I don't know how good he will be this year," Yeoman said. "Last year I thought he was the best in the conference, mainly because of what he accomplished."

Davis is the brash young man who wore a T-shirt inscribed, "SWC Champs 1976," beneath his jersey in Houston's 1976 opener. He wanted a Baylor defense to rip his jersey off, exposing the T-shirt to a regional television audience.

Davis had a new T-shirt printed this summer saying, "National Champs 1977," but his friend Blackwell tore it up.

"I've got a new one being printed," Davis said. "It will be unveiled at the UCLA game."

Cougars' cornerback Anthony Francis, who led the nation in interceptions last season, was not bashful about his attire Wednesday. He wore a red T-shirt with white lettering, "Houston Cougars, SWC Champs 76, National Champs 77."

Asked whether the team was really thinking about a No. 1 ranking, Francis said, "Well not so much winning the national championship but just going out and winning every ballgame."

The new names in Houston's inexperienced defense came in for some praise.

Of Frederick Snell, a junior safety, Yeoman said, "We finally got contact lenses on him and he can see the ball. For a blind man he did a heck of a job last year."

Defensive end Daryl Wilkerson, a sophomore, has "sobered up and come to the party," according to Yeoman.

When Robert Harrison, the No. 1 nose guard, can get some experience, "He's liable to line up and not be too funny."

Without question, the most critical position for Houston is quarterback.

"Danny must stay well," Yeoman said. "The other quarterbacks look great as long as they're not in the game."

The foremost concern,

Yeoman said, is, "Seeing how we hold up defensively."

"I think we can. We can't afford any more slipping in the bathtub."

Plano's Bickham To Start Sat.?

WACO, Tex. (UPI) — Baylor coach Grant Teaff said Wednesday the chances were improving that injured quarterback Sammy Bickham might start in Saturday's opener against Texas Tech.

"We were concerned that Sammy might not be able to work out Monday or Tuesday and that would mean he couldn't play against Tech," Teaff said. "But he worked hard both days and didn't have any swelling in the shoulder."

"I would now say that Sammy has gone from a possible starter to a probable starter. But I won't make my final decision until Friday."

If Bickham cannot play, the starting assignment will fall to freshman Scott Smith.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — TCU coach F.A. Dry announced Wednesday linebacker Doug King would be lost for his senior season due to chronic neck problems.

'Cats Face Kimball

Both Teams Enter Winless

Dallas Kimball, losers last week to Arlington Sam Houston by a 16-6 count, are the hosts for the Plano Wildcats Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Sprague Field in Dallas.

Plano and Kimball's Knights are both winless after their season openers last week. Plano fell victim to the South Garland Colonels, 25-13.

Kimball scored all three of their touchdowns through the air to beat the Wildcats. However, the entire Plano starting secondary missed portions of the game due to injuries.

Because of the success South Garland had in passing against Plano, Coach Tommy Kimbrough feels the Knights might try the same strategy.

"We will probably be seeing the pass from Kimball."

Cramps and slight muscle pulls were the culprit behind last week's injuries. Cornerbacks John Gaddis and Steve Huber, rover Marty Melson and safety Tim Lasiter were the secondary members slowed by cramps.

Their injuries not only proved disastrous to the defense but also to the offense. Gaddis is Plano's starting quarterback (he scored both Plano touchdowns against South Garland) and Melson is a flanker.

Coach Kimbrough felt the Plano offense did its job in the game against South Garland but the defense was lacking.

"Offensively, we were pleased but I wish we could have controlled the ball longer," Kimbrough said. "Defensively, we were not pleased. The reasons were key injuries in our secondary, we didn't play good technique and South Garland has an outstanding team."

All the Plano injuries are headed and Kimbrough says the Wildcats will be at 100 percent against Dallas Kimball.

"We always seem to have a lot of cramps in the first game," Kimbrough said.

The Wildcats are eating a lot of salt and are physically ready for the game, however, their success against Kimball could rely on remaining healthy for the duration of the game.

Kimball, like South Garland, is a large team. Offensively, the Kimball Knights weigh-in at an average of 208 lb. on their line. Jerry Ross and Stanley Cochran anchor that offensive line at tackles, weighing respectively 215 and 240 lbs.

Quarterback Bruce

Hudley leads the I-slot formation. He is rated by the Plano coaches as possessing good running skills and being a good passer.

Reginald Brotherton returns as a starting running back. Brotherton weighs 210 lbs. and possesses good speed. S. Cody holds the other running back position and according to Coach Kimbrough, he possesses outstanding speed.

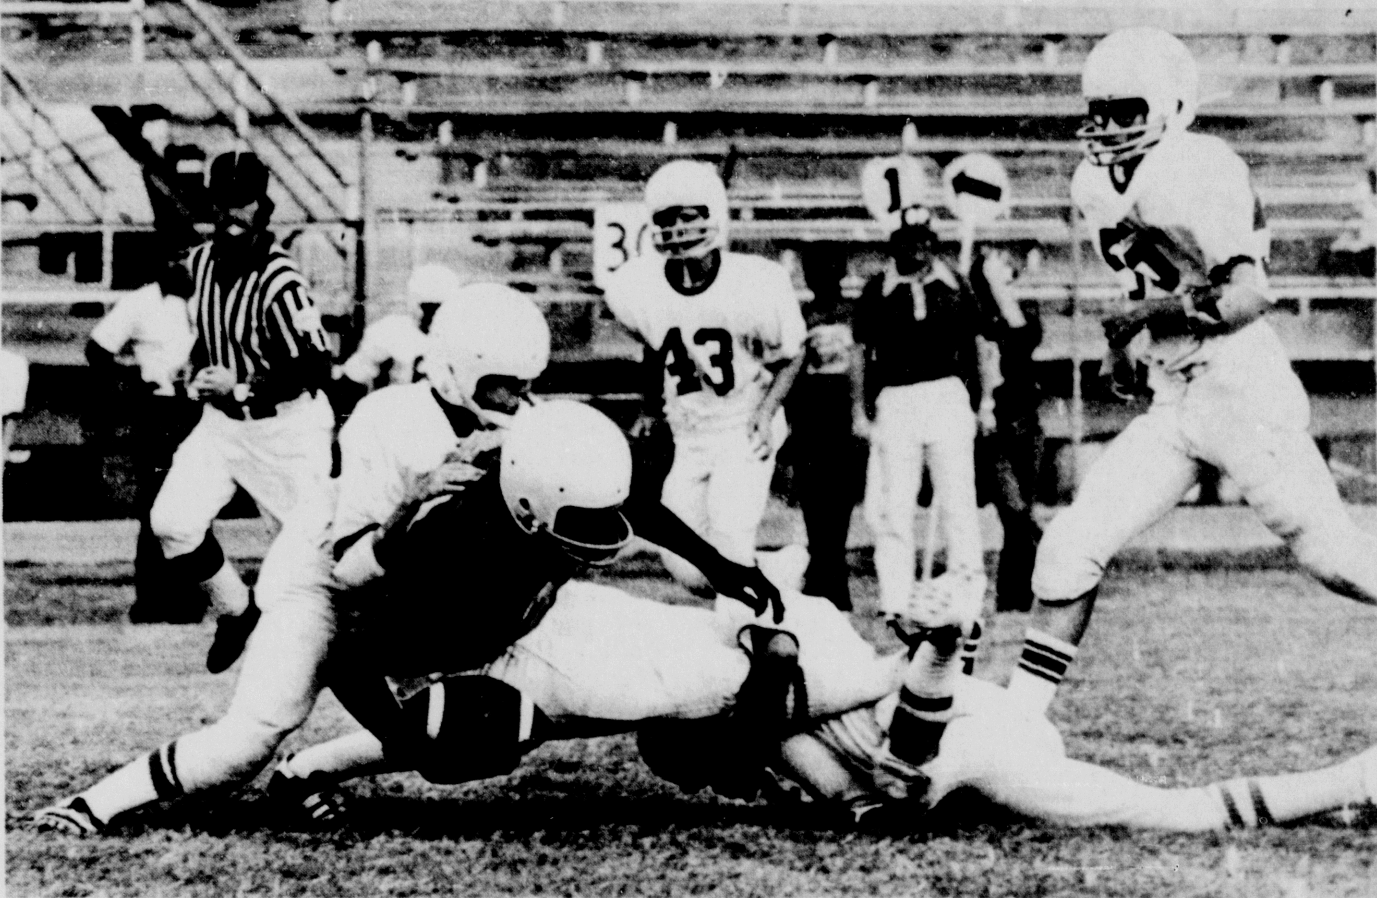

Defensively, the Kimball Knights operate from an eight-man front line, split defense. Despite giving up coverage in the secondary, Coach Kimbrough feels the key to Plano's offensive attack will be balance.

"We feel like we will have to be balanced to be successful against Kimball," Kimbrough said.

"Kimball has a balanced defense. They are not weak in any position but they don't have any real standouts at any positions."

Raiders Zap DeWitt Perry

Bowman Middle School's eighth grade Raiders downed the Carrollton DeWitt Perry eighth grade 34-0 Tuesday.

Ken Massa scored first for the Raiders and Bruce Smith added the two-pointer on a dive. Tony Turner put the Raiders out in front 14-0 on a punt return.

Later in the game, Joe Duncan scored on a three-yard dive play to widen the margin to 20-0. Smith once again came through on the PAT and Bowman led 22-0.

Massa scored his second touchdown of the night on a two-yard quarterback sneak to end scoring for the Raiders in the third quarter. Duncan also added his second TD to the Raider effort in the fourth quarter.

Outstanding players for the Raiders were Duncan, Massa, Tony Turner, Tim Coil, Jon Cox, Dennis Denson, Smith and Dan Majors with a pass interception.

"We did not play well, but we will improve on our blocking and tackling. A couple of break away plays gave us the ballgame," said Coach Raymond King.

Apaches 8th Downed 34-Zip

Joe McKee scored on a two-yard run in the fourth quarter but it wasn't enough as the Armstrong Middle School eighth grade team was defeated 34-6 by Denton Congress Tuesday.

The Apaches were down 34-0 going into the fourth quarter but the Armstrong defense finally jelled and held Denton.

Outstanding players for the Apaches were McKee, Mike Ford, James Sander, Kevin Jeanes and Gene Bradley.

"It is very early in the season and we will be able to improve each week. We are proud of the fact that our young men didn't quit and came back and scored after the score was 34-0," said Coach David Dooley.

"Everyone on our team played tonight and the experience will be beneficial to us as the season progresses," added Dooley.

Sophomores Down Byran Adams

BY JERRY PRICKETT
On Wednesday evening, the Vines Vikings sophomore football team defeated the Bryan Adams JV, 18-7.

Rain fell throughout the entire game, which was marred by 12 fumbles.

Bryan Adams started off the game in excellent field position after Vines had a bad snap on a punt. After driving down to the six, Bryan Adams was called for holding and were sent back to the 21-yard line.

On the next play, the Vikings were caught sleeping by an end-around play for a Bryan Adams' touchdown. The extra-point kick was partially blocked but continued through the crossbars to give Bryan Adams a 7-0 lead.

Coach Roger Ezell. "At halftime we told them what they were doing and said if they didn't wake up they'd get whipped."

After the half the Vikings finally managed to get their initial first down with less than five minutes remaining in the third quarter. Shortly after that, fullback Ty Callahan bulled over from the one-yard line and the score was 7-6 after the Vines try for two points failed.

The Vikings got back a break early in the fourth quarter when Bryan Adams had a bad snap on one of their punts which Vines recovered on the five-yard line.

On the next play running back Eric Waterman Scored. The try for two points was fumbled and the score was 12-7.

Vines put the game out of reach after an interception of a Bryan Adams pass with 4:28 left in the game. Two plays later halfback Mike Beeson scored on a 15-yard run.

Bryan Adams almost scored in the last minute but they were held in an outstanding goal-line stand.

"The second half was a good team effort," said Coach Ezell. "The defense held them, with the exception of a screen pass."

Vines will play at Lake Highlands next Thursday.

PGH Meets Standards, Receives Accreditation

Plano General Hospital has been accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, according to A. Walter Hoover, M.D. of Chicago, Director of the Dept. of Accreditation Programs.

The announcement of the accreditation was made this week by James A. Eppa, administrator of Plano General Hospital.

This accreditation, which covers a two-year period, is the result of an on-site survey made by field representatives of the Joint Commission's Hospital Accreditation Program.

Accreditation indicates that this facility has chosen to operate according to standards set by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals and that the facility has, in the main, met these standards.

The standards, published as the "Accreditation Manual for Hospitals", set forth optimal achievable goals of excellence against which a facility can measure itself and be measured by the Joint Commission's survey.

Plano General Hospital is one of approximately 4,800 general hospitals throughout the U.S. that have earned this recognition. There are more than 7,000 hospitals in the country.

The Joint Commission's accreditation surveys are voluntary. It is not legally necessary for a hospital to be accredited, but health care facilities have sought accreditation because it represents a benchmark of quality that is higher than governmental licensure alone.

The chief aim of the Hospital Accreditation Program, one of four such programs under the JCHA umbrella, is to help hospitals in their pursuit of excellence and thereby provide a higher quality of care to patients.

The program also seeks to recognize, and to identify to the public, those facilities which meet its standards.

The Joint Commission was set up in 1918 under the auspices of the American College of Surgeons. It was incorporated in 1951 with the support of its present member organizations: the American College of Surgeons, the American College of Physicians, the American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association.

JCAH is a Chicago-based, non-governmental, non-profit organization.

In addition to hospitals, it has programs for the accreditation of long term care facilities, psychiatric facilities, facilities for mentally retarded and other developmentally disabled persons and ambulatory health care.

Bridge Pair Tops

Allen V. Shaw and Dorsey Shaw, 1700 Canadian Trail, Plano, Tex., were named District 16 winners of the 1977 Olympia Fund game of the American Contract Bridge League by Richard L. Goldberg, ACBL executive secretary.

Goldberg said the Plano pair had the highest average performance of all players in an area embracing Texas (except the Panhandle) and Mexico.

The District 16 contestants were among 6,226 pairs across the continent who took part in near simultaneous play of identical computer-dealt hands July 15th. Results of each site were transported by mail and computations were delayed until all arrived, Goldberg said.

Allen and Dorsey Shaw, playing at the Valley View Bridge Studio, Plano, scored .653 to lead the district. The continental winners were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Filandro, Dover, Del., at .750.

Second in District 16 at .652 were Diane Olson paired with Della MacArthur, both of San Antonio.

Sealed packets of computer dealt hands are distributed to all tournament sites and play begins at the same hour local time all across the continent.

Proceeds from the play supports North American bridge players in the Olympiads meets of the World Bridge Federation.

The 1978 Pair Olympiad of the WBF will be held June 17 to 30 at New Orleans with competitors from 60 nations seeking world honors. The U.S., Canada, Mexico and Bermuda players of the ACBL will be in the meet.
